Introduction - World Trends Converge - The Fundamentals of Food & Energy

Converging trends in population growth and resource depletion have set the stage for major changes in our global trading system as well as presenting once-in-a-lifetime opportunities in alternative energy and agriculture. Our current 7.3 billion World Population is growing by approximately eighty (80) million people per year, and is expected to reach 10 billion by 2050. According to the BBC - Agriculture experts contend that in order to meet rising demand, global food production will need to increase fifty (50) to seventy (70) percent by 2050.

The fundamentals of the oil industry are inescapable. The reality is, we are not running out of oil, but we are "running out of oil we can afford to burn, and this fact is going to bring about major changes in the way we conduct our economy." - Jeff Rubin. There are steps we can take to minimize the potential impact of triple digit oil prices to our economy, and address our need to rapidly increase our food production. In fact, it is possible to capitalize on opportunities developing from the inevitable rise in energy prices while simultaneously revitalizing and modernizing our local economy in America and in cities around the World.

GrowGreen Power Inc.

GrowGreen Power is the developer of commercial scale Hydroponic Greenhouses integrated with renewable energy power generation that combines Concentrating Solar Thermal Collectors and Biomass energy systems. The integration of the greenhouse and the energy systems has created a unique, sustainable and highly efficient local / food produce / renewable energy platform and business model.

One GrowGreen Power Center, with a fully climate controlled, Hydroponic Greenhouse (100-acre) will deliver an abundance of fresh produce to the local marketplace in varieties that are tailored for a specific region. The mix will typically include a variety of vegetables - several kinds of tomatoes, bell peppers, cucumbers, strawberries, varieties of lettuce and herbs - with annual production yields totaling more than 35,000 metric tons, or more than 77 million pounds / year. A typical GrowGreen Power Center is so productive that a fully climate controlled GGP Center, will produce 30-X times the yield of traditional agriculture per acre, using 85% less water, in a pesticide free, clean, climate protected growing environment, while at the same time delivering 45-MW of clean renewable electricity to the local power grid.

GrowGreen Power Centers are sustainable with the ability to operate 24 hours a day 365 days a year in most climate zones and locations around the world. This is made possible by our unique integration of technologies that include erecting a Concentrating Solar Thermal array over the Greenhouse - combined with a Biomass Power Plant. These two systems of producing steam, when combined, drive steam turbines generating 45 megawatts of clean / renewable / electricity. This capability, along with our ability to maximize the reuse of the thermal energy we collect to produce electricity, will also maintain our climate control systems in a wide variety of climate zones.

GGP - Strategic Plan - The Green Zone / Sustainable Energy and Light Industry Centers in American Cities

The GrowGreen Power Inc Development Strategy will be to locate GGP Centers within 50 miles of major Cities in the United States as well as Cities around the World, and deliver both Sustainable Fresh Produce and Clean / Renewable / Energy to the local community. GGP-Centers will provide approximately 500 Green Economy jobs at every facility. We anticipate that with the development of each GGP-Center that there will be subsequent phases that will eventually produce thousands of additional jobs. In addition GGP Centers will be the catalyst anchor to support the development of local Green Economic Zones with Light Industry Business Development Parks around American Cities that will bring many Light Industry manufacturing jobs back to American Communities. These new Economic Green Zones can now be master planned in a far more sustainable configuration than has been developed to date.

The collaborative approach is the key to gaining insight into sustainable solutions for the 21st Century. To this end GrowGreen Power Inc has secured strategic relationships with best-in-class professionals, and companies in each of its operating areas. At present GGP is focused on developing our first project 50 Miles from Charlotte, North Carolina.
